Awards Exempt From Chapter 103F, HRS
Pursuant to Section 3-141-503(c), HAR
Updated May 22, 2003

Background and Purpose

When there is good cause for a procurement to be exempt from Chapter 103F, HRS, chief procurement officers (CPOs) may exempt such procurements upon written request by the head of the purchasing agency. The awards listed here include those requests by the heads of purchasing agencies to the chief procurement officer for the executive branch of government.

In order to request an exemption the head of the purchasing agency requests an exemption to Chapter 103F, HRS (See form SPO-H-150) and submits it to the chief procurement officer. Before granting an exemption the chief procurement officer consults with the administrator of the State Procurement Office.

The listing includes the following information: the purchasing agency, the provider awarded, a brief description of the service, the amount awarded and the start and end dates of the contract. This Listing includes those requests for exemption that were rejected or withdrawn or are pending. The status of each request is also listed.

While cost may not be the most significant factor in choosing a provider, it is a major consideration. There are options in conducting a competitive procurement. For instance, you may conduct a competitive procurement stipulating access to all courses of a particular type(s) offered by the provider and receive a percentage off the regular catalog rate. Gathering appropriate data will give the WDD the ability to better predict its needs and subsequently request and negotiate a better price for some it's training courses while maintaining an appropriate level of flexibility. Future requests for exemption would be reduced and DLIR/WDD will know it has considered all factors and planned in an effective manner to meet clients needs while making the most efficient use of resources. Approval is for the time period 7/1/02 through 6/30/04.		6/28/02	6/28/02

In addition, CAMHD mus make allowances in future RFP's to allow transition time for clients at the end of a contract shouls a new/different provider be selected. The criteria for transitions should be clearly stated in the RFP and the contract. Lastly CAMHD must maintain clear and specific records documenting the timeliness in which transitions were made and funds expended by service. These records shall be kept with the procurement file.
